VI. DISCUSSION ITEMS

A. Climate and Health Adaptation Modeling Project (CHAMP)

Public Health – Seattle & King County is working on a community-based participatory model building project focused on heat health risks in the City of Auburn. We have established a 15-person workgroup of people with related lived and professional experiences that have created a model that visualizes how heat impacts health in Auburn. This workgroup has met three times since July 2024 and will meet three more times before April 2025 to finish the model and identify solutions to be shared with decisionmakers.

We are seeking your input at this mid-point stage of the process so that we can include your perspective on heat health risks in Auburn in the conversation. We invite you to participate in a 2-hour discussion in November (exact date forthcoming) which will include the following activities:

B. Discuss Chair, and Vice-Chair Positions

Discuss Junior Council Chair, and Vice-Chair positions.

C. Transportation Advisory Board Position

The Transportation Advisory Board has a board position open for a High School Student.

D. Administrative Updates

Auburn is hosting a series of community meetings with Auburn residents, elected officials, school and community leaders. If you are interested in helping with setting up, tearing down, taking notes, and other duties as assigned, please reach out to Melissa Bailey.

Auburn's Veteran's Parade on November 9th - Any appointed Junior Council Member can attend, the parade happens rain or shine. Junior Council will have a vehicle with an assigned driver to walk beside, or ride in during the parade and you will receive honorable mention.

Santa Parade & Tree Lighting on December 7th - Any appointed Junior Council Member can attend, the parade happens rain or shine. Junior Council has a banner to hold and decorate and you will receive honorable mention at the tree lighting.

Mayor's Open House in early December - Anyone on AJCC can attend, anyone on a board or commission, city employee, or resident can attend.
